Agricultural Fair Very Successful

Large Crowd Attended the Fifty-First Annual Exhibition; Large Number of Entries Were Displayed This Year

The Fifty-first Annual Exhibition of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society was held at the Agricultural Hall, Saanichton, on Tuesday and Wednesday this week. The fair was attended by a large number of the citizens of the Saanich Peninsula, who gathered to view the excellent exhibits of agricultural products and live stock. Three of the wards in the jurisdiction of the Society presented fine agricultural exhibits of a varied nature, and a large number of products, both natural and artificial were shown. The wards represented were Nos. 4, 5 and 6, the other four wards in the territory covered by the society failing to place exhibits. In addition to the ward exhibits there was a table extending nearly the length of the hall covered with many fine exhibits of apples. On another table were arranged displays of home cookery, bread and pastry, with several showings of honey, a rather scarce product on the Saanich Peninsula. Third and fourth table contained fine exhibits of vegetables and squashes, and there was also an excellent display of corn in the stalk, some of it very tall.

During the afternoon of Tuesday, Gen. Sir Arthur Currie opened the Fair, delivering a very able speech to the assembled crowd.

A partial list of the prize winners is published this week, as it was impossible to procure the information in time for this issue. The balance of the prize list will be published next week.

Indications of Railway Settlement

Secretary of Sidney Board of Trade Received Important Wires This Morning Sent at Request of M. B. Jackson, M.P.P

Indicative of an early settlement of the Victoria and Sidney Railway situation are copies of three telegrams received today by Secretary of the Sidney Board of Trade, Mr. W. H. Dawes, in relation to the disposal of the Victoria and Sidney railway situation, which has been hanging fire for months. Two of the messages were sent at the request of Mr. M. B. Jackson, M.P.P., by Hon. John Oliver, Premier and Provincial Minister of Railways, one being addressed to Hon. J. D. Reid, Minister of Railways, Ottawa, and the other to Mr. D. B. Hanna, manager of the Canadian National Railways. A wire from Mr. J. C. McIntosh, M.P., completed the three. The text of the messages follows:

Mr. W. H. Dawes,
Secy. Sidney Board of Trade.
Using all possible pressure for settlement of the Victoria and Sidney Railway matter, and expect to get result at an early date.
J. C. McIntosh.

GROWING GARDEN SEEDS.

Circular No. 17 of the Dominion Experimental Farms shows that seed of most varieties of vegetables can be grown at home of as good or better quality than is the imported seed. To insure having good seed, however, it should be produced from those which happen to be left unused. This publication, which is entitled "Every Gardener His Own Seed Grower," is obtainable from the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, and tells how to grow, select, and care for seeds of such garden crops as beans, corn, cucumbers, egg plants, lettuce, melons, parsley, peppers, peas, radish, tomatoes, and some other crops.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

On account of next Monday being Thanksgiving Day all the stores will be closed.

Watch those dollars—Victory needs them.

Hon. J. D. Reid,
Minister of Railways, Ottawa.

Am advised that business interests and investments of people of Sidney are likely to be sacrificed on account of the failure of the C. N. R. management to offer a reasonable price for the required portion of the V. & S. Railway, receiver of which reports offer made as being only one-quarter value of road. Would appreciate your effort in affecting equitable adjustment.

John Oliver.

Mr. D. B. Hanna,
Mgr. Canadian National Rys.
Toronto.

Railway reports your company offers only one-quarter value for portion of railway which you require, which offer he refused. This means that business interests and investments likely to be sacrificed. We request that equitable arrangement be made. Kindly to give matter your personal attention.

John Oliver.

THE USE OF COARSE GRAINS.

The public must necessarily judge food very largely by the eye. Green colored apples are difficult to sell, even when of fine quality, but a red apple will usually bring a good price, even though the actual flavor may be but little better than a turnip. Rice, in order to make it attractive, has to be coated with glucose, and powdered tale, by which it gets its fine gloss. Butter must be yellow to please the purchaser and is therefore frequently colored with a yellow dye. But the public demands wheat flour in as white a form as possible and hence it has often been bleached to remove its natural yellow tint. In Bulletin No. 40, "The Use of Coarse Grains for Human Food," which may be had free upon application to the Publication Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, it is shown that with the advance of civilization and the improving of machinery there has been a tendency to discard the coarse and relatively indigestible substances in our food, with the result that we have reached a stage where most people consume too large a proportion of refined material and too little of the necessary coarse and relatively indigestible substances. Lately, however, people have become alarmed and action has begun against what may be fairly called "over purification of foods." The object of the new bulletin is twofold; first, to show to farmers generally how they can become more nearly self-sufficient as far as food supply for themselves and their family is concerned, and second, to point out for the benefit of other classes of people some ways of economizing in the cost of their food, and at the same time improving the wholesomeness of their diet.

Twenty Billions of National Wealth behind the Victory Loan 1919

$2,423,000,000

The present estimated value of the railways of Canada is two billion dollars. That does not include the street railways which are valued at one hundred and sixty millions. Canals are worth one hundred and twenty three millions, shipping, thirty five millions; telegraphs, ten millions and telephones, ninety five millions. These utilities are a portion of the security for the Victory Loan, 1919. The estimates are made by J. P. H. Coats, Director of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics at Ottawa. He places the total of the national wealth and income of Canada at $19,002,888,120.

Board of Trade Meeting Interesting

Financial Statement of Rotary Club Banquet Presented; Railway Matters Again Discussed by the Members

Probably principal in importance among the business transacted at the meeting of the Sidney Board of Trade held at the office of Mr. S. Roberts, this city, last Tuesday evening was the decision of the Board to call an amass meeting on the evening of Tuesday, October 14, for the purpose of re-organizing the Sidney Fire Department and electing a Board of Fire Commissioners consisting of three members. The meeting will be held in the new Berquist Theatre on Fourth street.

Relative to the Rotary Club banquet which was given here about six weeks ago Secretary W. H. Dawes offered the following financial report of the affair:

Receipts.
Sale of tickets	$44.50
Donated	5.25
Sale of food	23.90
Total	$73.65
Expenditures.
Freight	$ 50
Meat	6.70
Printing menus	5.25
Phone and stamps	1.00
Sidney Trading Company	6.75
Masters, Victoria, hire of silverware	41.50
Total	$64.70
Receipts	$73.65
Expenditures	$64.70
Balance	$8.95
Donated by R. W. Mayhew	$10.00
Donated by Sidney Rubber Roofing Co.	$10.00
Balance on hand	$28.95

In reference to what appears to be an excessive charge for the rental of silverware, it was stated that arrangements had been made for the accommodation of 150 guests, and that only about half that number were able to attend the banquet, owing to the inclemency of the weather. If the number of guests provided for had arrived the affair would have been more of a financial success.

Mr. Dawes delivered a report on his attendance at the meeting of the Rotary Club irrigation committee, which was held at Victoria September 22 for the purpose of considering ways and means of establishing an irrigation system for the Saanich Peninsula. The proceedings of the meeting were reported in a previous issue of the Review, and Mr. Dawes stated further that at the meeting it had been stated that the capacity of the Sooke Lake water system was 21,000,000 gallons per day, while the demands on the system were but 9,000,000 gallons per day.

A communication from the Victoria Times to the effect that a special industrial edition of that paper, in which the various districts of Vancouver Island will be featured, will be published within a short time and requesting that Sidney views and data relating to the town be furnished for the purpose of publication, was considered by the Board, and the matter of furnishing the data requested was taken under advisement. The letter stated that the entire edition will deal only with the Island and its industries.

A letter from Mr. M. B. Jackson,

M.P.P., relative to the disposal by Mr. J. P. Roberts, receiver of the Victoria and Sidney Railway Company, of the rails and other material going to make up the line of the defunct transportation concern was as follows:

Oct. 4, 1919.

Hon. John Oliver, Premier,
Parliament Buildings,
Victoria, B. C.
(Re C.N.R. and Sidney.)

Dear Mr. Oliver:—
Following our telephone conversation of a few minutes ago, I now enclose a copy of the letter written by Mr. J. P. Roberts, Receiver of the railway to the Secretary of the Sidney Board of Trade.

If the fact is as Mr. Roberts indicated, that the Canadian National Railway is offering merely one-quarter of the junk value of this piece of line, then it would seem to me that the Canadian Government is but trifling with the situation and in effect making fools of those of us who are so deeply concerned with the interests of the Sidney district. I would be so much obliged if you could, as suggested, forward a vigorous presentation of our point of view to the C. N. R. and the Government at Ottawa.

We are entitled to assume that the National Railway Department was proposing serious business and no tomfoolery and I suggest that if they are not prepared to meet what the Receiver regards as at least a fair valuation, then the matter should be referred to the arbitration of an independent individual or body that they may be disposed to nominate.

I am quite sure that Mr. Roberts is anxious to assist us and is not for a moment attempting to exact more than the veriest minimum price for the road.

Thanking you in anticipation, I am Yours faithfully,
(Signed) M. B. Jackson.

HISTORY IS REPEATING ITSELF

Conditions in Russia Are Similar to Those Which Followed French Revolution.

That history repeats itself at times has often been demonstrated in the past, and it is demonstrated at the present time in the Bolshevik movement in Russia, which has caused such a sanguinary upheaval in that country during and since the war with Germany. So far, the experience of Russia is a remarkable repetition of the experience of France during the French Revolution toward the close of the eighteenth century, which was an unexpected uprising of the people in revolt after a long period of oppression under the rule of weak, unscrupulous, or profligate monarchs.

The French Revolution was started by the Girondists, or moderate republicans in 1789, while Louis XVI, a weak, if well-meaning potentate, was on the throne, and corresponded with the Kerensky rebellion against the czar in Russia. The Kerensky administration was weak when it should have been strong and its policies were vague and indefinite, not only in themselves, but in the carrying of them out.

When the Girondists were in power in France, severity was used when mildness would have been wise and vice versa, and the Girondist administration as a whole was characterized by too many illogical contradictions and failures to stand by any definite policy.

Then the Jacobins began their reign of terror after defeating the Girondists, and a thirst for murder for murder's sake developed and spread like a moral plague among the populace. Christianity was formally abolished and morality sank to a low ebb. The guillotine was in constant requisition in beheading any and all whom the Jacobins, now a wild, man-hunting mob, wanted to destroy. So many people were condemned to death by them that the guillotine was too slow for them and men and women were tied together two by two and thrown into the Seine to drown by the hundreds, a form of execution which the executioners in ferocious rages called "Marriage de la Revolution." Finally, before Napoleon Bonaparte appeared, became the idol of the masses, and made himself emperor of France, the Jacobins split into factions, which began destroying each other. This, a well-known writer said, appeared to be providential in checking the perpetuation of a race of monsters in human form.

The reign of terror established by the Bolsheviks in Russia corresponds in many ways with that of the Jacobins in France. Proclamations have been made by the Bolshevik leaders abolishing religion and morality in some of which murder and assassination are condoned and sometimes hailed as meritorious acts. The same insane thirst for blood and desire to destroy manifested by the Jacobins are manifested by the Bolsheviks as well as the mob spirit, which makes people kill their fellow creatures for the love of killing. Factional fighting among the Bolsheviks, which is not unlikely to occur, would make the parallel between the French and Russian revolution complete. For blood lust and desire to destroy the Bolsheviks have more than equalled the Jacobins in the French Revolution of one hundred and thirty years ago—Popular Magazine.

Jersey Notes.

The Duncan Fair, held at Sept. 25, 26 and 27, was a real Jersey exhibition. Over 75 head were shown, being more in number than all other breeds together.

In the aged bull class interested Violet's Oxford was first and grand champion. This bull is owned by Mr. G. T. Corfield, of Moresby, B. C., and has done a wonderful lot of good in the district; his daughters are outstanding individuals. Brampston Pearl Fox stood second, and his daughters are also a promising looking lot.

In the aged cow class, a string of nine head were shown, and a more handsome bunch of cows would be hard to get together. Model Rosewood Kitty, owned by Mr. Willett, of Moresby, B. C., was first and grand champion. A beautiful cow, owned by Mrs. Doering, of Moresby, was a close second.

In the senior and junior herd classes, Mr. Corfield's cattle took first place, and they were certainly a credit to the breed.

The younger classes were well filled and many beautiful animals were shown. On the whole the fair was a splendid Jersey success.

In following closely the quality and production, as well as the high class breeding, of these Island Jerseys, one could not help but realize the fact that this part of B. C. is rapidly becoming a great Jersey centre.

The Correct Way to Drive an Auto

No general rule can be laid down as to the manner in which the steering wheel should be held, as each driver will gradually discover that there is one certain way which seems best suited to him, according to B. M. Ikert, who writes on the subject of driving for Motor Age. But at that, there are right and wrong ways of grasping the wheel, and even those who have graduated into the ranks of good drivers may find themselves not adhering to the accepted rules. For instance, when the car is going faster than twenty-five miles an hour both hands should be on the steering wheel, to be ready for any emergency such as a blowout, passing vehicle or the like. Many accidents are avoided by quick steering rather than bringing the car to a stop or slowing down, and the man who has both hands on the wheel in this case is in a better position to worm his way out than if he had to bring the other hand to the wheel. The latter operation requires a second or so, and seconds are precious factors when avoiding collisions.

As a general thing, the wheel should be held so that one hand is about diametrically opposite the other. In this position the arms will act as levers, and while one hand pushes the rim, the other pulls. On long drives and where the road surface permits, this position may be varied so that the driver becomes less fatigued. Some people drive by placing both hands close together at the bottom of the rim, so that the arms are straight back. This is bad, because it affords little leverage.

Then there are others who grasp the spokes of the wheel, and while this is permissible for resting the arms, it must be borne in mind that the closer the hands are placed to the centre of the wheel the less will be the leverage. The safest way is to place the hands at each side of the wheel, so you are ready for emergencies. There is no telling when a tire is apt to blow out, and if the car is traveling over thirty miles an hour the wheel may be jerked from the hands of the driver if he is unprepared. Most steering gears are irreversible, but at that, a blowout at comparative high speeds will in most cases force the front wheels to the side on which the blow-out took place. It is also well to remember that when a tire blows to jam on the brakes, but rather the throttle should be closed and the car allowed to coast to a stop. By jamming on the brakes the car might skid and serious damage will result to the deflated tire.

While on the subject of skidding, it is perhaps well to take up a discussion of the latter.

To begin with, the driver should learn to differentiate between the term skidding and side-slipping. The former simply means a continuous forward movement of the car. Fortunately side slipping is usually confined to the rear wheels only, but in some instances this might be true of the front ones also. One reason for side slipping is taking corners too fast. In this case the centrifugal force tends to slide the car broadside off the road.

The driver who experiences his first skid, or side slip, feels helpless, but after one or two of them he will learn how to correct them. Nearly all side slips are toward the right, made so by the camber of the road or city street. Application of the brake, in such a case will only aggravate matters. The thing to do is to partially close the throttle, but not all the way, as this would be equivalent to putting on the brakes. Then gradually head the car for the centre of the road, at the same time opening the throttle. This might aggravate the skid somewhat, but it will be for a short time only, and all the while you are placing the front wheels in the centre of the road with the car pointing at an angle.

In this manner the car can be brought to the crown of the road again and the right rear wheel, which is down in the ditch, will be pulled out by the momentum of the car. The important thing to remember about skidding is to leave the brake pedal alone. No great deal of trouble will be experienced on wet pavements if the brakes are applied only when the car is going in a straight line. But by no means should the brakes be applied enough to lock the rear wheels. In turning a corner of a slippery pavement, the clutch should be taken out if there is a tendency for the car to slip.

There is another cause of side slip which might take place when the gear is being driven in a straight line. If the brake be applied haphazardly, one of the wheels may become locked and the car skid in a straight line. When this takes place very frequently one of the rear tires, especially if it has a plain tread, will lose its lateral grip on the road surface and begin to slip sideways, setting up a possibility of the car being swung up against the curb.

Never steer a car sharply from the curb to the crown of the road when the surface is slippery. This is also true when the car is started from the curb. The theory based on this is simple: the adhesion of the road wheels is insufficient to overcome the centrifugal effect and the result is that the rear of the car is forced into the gutter. Sometimes a sudden speeding up of the engine will effectively overcome the tendency to skid.

Driving a car in the city through traffic calls for quick brakes, gear, etc., much more so than when in the country. In the city the driver must be on the alert at all times, owing to the increased number of vehicles, motor cars, street cars, pedestrians, etc. One of the first things to learn in traffic driving is not to get up too close to the car or vehicle ahead of you, especially if it is horse drawn. Horses become restive at times, sometimes from their own caprice, at others because of an unskilled driver, and have a way of backing up in stopped traffic. If a car is driven to within six inches or a foot behind the result is usually a broken lamp or fender, or, in some cases, even the radiator might suffer. The careful driver leaves plenty of space between his car and any vehicle in front, so that in case the latter starts to back up the reverse can be used and the car brought back to a point of safety. Always before backing the car in a city look to the rear to see if you are hemmed in by traffic.

Traffic driving also demands that the motorist be not in too great a hurry to start forward after a traffic light or other form of commercial vehicle has passed for the latter may be carrying long pipes or rods, lumber, etc., all of which may result in damage to the front of the car if not an accident will result. It is especially bad when a day has but one of the best things to learn in traffic driving is not to get up too close to the car or vehicle ahead of you, especially if it is horse drawn. Horses become restive at times, sometimes from their own caprice, at others because of an unskilled driver, and have a way of backing up in stopped traffic. If a car is driven to within six inches or a foot behind the result is usually a broken lamp or fender, or, in some cases, even the radiator might suffer. The careful driver leaves plenty of space between his car and any vehicle in front, so that in case the latter starts to back up the reverse can be used and the car brought back to a point of safety. The Why? of Another Victory Loan

WHEN, on the morning of November 11th, 1918, the guns were hushed and glad tidings flashed across the world, there followed with the Nation's Prayer of Thanksgiving, one yearning query, which found echo in the faster beating hearts of wives, mothers, fathers, brothers, sisters and sweethearts. That query was, "How soon will our boy be home?" And, from France and Flanders, from Italy and Egypt, from Palestine and from far-off Siberia, there came an answering echo, "How soon, how soon, may we go home?"

CANADA caught the spirit of these longings, and at once resolved to satisfy them. It was an appalling task. Shipping was tragically scarce. The composition of the Army of Occupation had not then been settled. And other parts of the Empire as well as Canada were looking for the speedy return of their men.

THE problem was this. The half-million men that Canada had overseas had taken more than four years to transport to the field of battle. To bring them home in a few months was a gigantic undertaking—one to tax all Canada's ingenuity and resources. Canada solved the problem, but it meant crowding into a few short months, an expense for demobilization which it was impossible to foresee.

THEN, too, besides the sentimental aspect of the necessity for bringing the men home quickly the economic side could not be overlooked. That was, to transform efficiently and speedily the nation's army of fighters into a national army of workers.

Need Divides Itself in Two Parts

Obligations to Soldiers

The answer to the question "Why does Canada need another Victory Loan?" divides itself into two parts. (a) To finish paying the expenses of demobilization, and the obligations we still owe to our soldiers. The obligations to soldiers include: That already incurred cost of bringing home troops from overseas. The payment of all soldiers still demobilized. This includes more than 20,000 sick and wounded who are still in hospital, and who of course remain on the Army payroll till discharged. The upkeep of hospitals, and their medical and nursing staffs, until the need for them is ended. These three items alone will use up at least $200,000,000 of the Victory Loan 1919.

Gratuities

There is also the gratuity which has been authorized, and has been and is being paid to assist soldiers to tide over the period between discharge and their re-adjustment to civil life. For this purpose alone, $61,000,000 must be provided out of the Victory Loan 1919, in addition to the $59,000,000 already paid out of the proceeds of the Victory Loan 1918.

Land Settlement

Furthermore, soldiers who desire to become farmers may, under the Soldiers' Land Settlement Act, be loaned money by Canada with which to purchase land, stock and implements. The money so advanced will be paid back; meantime each loan is secured by a first mortgage. Up to August 15th, 29,495 soldiers had applied for land under the terms of this Act; and 22,281 applications had been investigated, and the qualifications of the applicant approved. For this purpose Canada this year requires $24,000,000.

Vocational Training

For this work which, with the Vocational Training and Soldiers' Service Departments, embraces the major activities of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, an appropriation of $57,000,000 is necessary.

Those who give thought to our outstanding obligations to soldiers, and to our need for national working capital, cannot fail to be impressed with the absolute necessity for the Victory Loan 1919

"Every Dollar Spent in Canada"

Issued by Canada's Victory Loan Committee in co-operation with the Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada.

These national expenditures are war expenses. They will be accepted readily by every citizen who gives thought to the task which Canada faced following the Armistice, and to the success with which she met it.

National Working Capital

Canada needs national working capital, so that she may be able to sell on credit to Great Britain and our Allies the products of our farms, forests, fisheries, mines and factories.

You may ask "Why sell to them if they can't pay cash?" The answer is, "Their orders are absolutely essential to the continuance of our agricultural and industrial prosperity."

The magnitude of these orders and the amount of employment thus created, will depend upon the success of the Victory Loan 1919.

The "Why" of Credit Loans

Farmers and manufacturers (and that includes the workers on these orders) must be paid cash for their products. Therefore, Canada must borrow money from her citizens to give credit, temporarily, to Great Britain and our Allies. Actually, no money will pass out of Canada. If Canada does not give credit, other countries will; and they will get the trade, and have the employment that should be ours, to distribute amongst their workers. And remember, we absolutely need these orders to maintain employment. If we don't finance them business will feel the depression, employment will not be as plentiful, and conditions everywhere will be adversely affected.

For Transportation

Money must also be available to carry on the nation's shipbuilding programme, and other transportation development work.

For loans to Provincial Housing Commissions who are building moderate priced houses.

These, then, are some of the things for which Canada needs national working capital. She is in the position of a great trading company, and her citizens who buy Victory Bonds are the shareholders.

It is greatly to be desired that the project to establish in the Saanich Industrial Seat a branch of the Provincial system of traveling libraries, under the provisions of the Act to provide for the establishment of Public Libraries be carried to completion. Sidney has long been much in need of a library, but due to the fact that the town is unincorporated and that the expense of organizing and maintaining a library by the community itself, it has been obliged to forego this advantage. The town and contiguous community have a substantial population, and not only does the present citizen need access to good books, but the young idea, the future elector, needs through proper reading to have inculcated in consciousness the ideals of good citizenship.

Under the provisions of the Act it is amply possible for Sidney to have a library. The nominal sum of $100 a year paid into the hands of the Provincial Library Commission would secure a library of about 200 volumes, and the entire number of these book could be changed as often as once in two months, thus giving the town a library of 1,200 volumes a year for the insignificant sum of $100.

The provisions of the Act which apply in Sidney follow: "Any ten or more persons of the age of twenty-five years or over, the resident of any locality in the Province, may with the approval of the Commission form an association for the purpose of establishing and maintaining a public library in that locality. They shall make and sign a declaration in duplicate or in as many parts as may be necessary in Form No. 1 in the schedule.

Two signed copies of the declaration shall be transmitted to the Commission. If the Commission approves of the formation of the Association in the locality named in the declaration, it shall forthwith forward one of the signed copies of the declaration, together with a certificate of its approval signed by its secretary, to the office of the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies.

"The Registrar of Joint Stock Companies shall, without the payment of any fee, register the declaration, and issue to the association a certificate under his seal of office showing that the association is incorporated. From the date of incorporation mentioned in the certificate, the subscribers to the declaration, together with such other persons as may thereafter become members of the association, shall be a body politic and corporate by the name set out in the declaration. The association so incorporated shall have all the powers, rights, and immunities vested by law in corporations, and shall, subject to the limitations set out in section 18, have power to acquire and hold real property for the purposes for which the association is constituted, and to alienate the same at pleasure.

"Any person resident in the locality in which the association is formed may become a member of the association, subject to the rules and regulations made by the Board, but no member under the age of twenty-five years shall be eligible to hold any office in or to vote at meetings of the association.

"(1) A board of management consisting of five members of the association shall be appointed, and shall have charge of the business of the association, including the management, regulation, and control of the library established by it.

"(2) Within thirty days after the date of the incorporation of the association, the subscribers to the registered declaration shall meet and elect from among their number the first members of the Board.

"(3) On the second Monday in January in each year thereafter the members of the association shall meet and elect the members of the Board for the year.

"(4) The members of the Board shall hold office until their successors are appointed.

"The Board shall, as soon after its election as is convenient, appoint one of its members to act as Chairman of the Board; and may from time to time appoint a secretary-treasurer, librarian, and such other officers and servants as are necessary for the purposes of the association, and with the approval of the Commission may fix their salaries.

"(1) The Board may

"(a) Make rules for the holding of regular and special meetings of the association, and for the management of the association, and the conduct of the business of the Board;

"(b) Define the duties of the officers and servants
of the Board

"(c) Provide, subject to subsection (2), such suitable accommodation for the library as the funds at the disposal of the Board warrant;

"(d.) Adopt means for the raising of funds for the support of the association, including, if thought desirable, the fixing of an annual membership fee.

"(2.) Subject to the approval of the Commission, and to such supervision of expenditure as it may direct,
the Board may:—

"(a.) Purchase, lease, or otherwise acquire real property and procure or erect buildings for the purposes of the library;

"(b.) Purchase books, magazines, newspapers, and other reading matter, and library supplies;

"(c.) Make rules and regulations for the management and use of the library.

"(3.) The Board shall:—

"(a.) Keep proper minutes of all the proceedings of the Board and of all meetings of the association;

"(b.) Submit an annual report of its doings to the Commission; and

"(c.) In general, perform such duties as may be necessary in carrying out the purpose of the association."

THE LABOR CANDIDATE.

THE first gun in the Dominion bye-election was fired in Victoria by the Federated Labor Party when the campaign of Mr. Barnard, Labor candidate, of New Westminster, was commenced last Saturday evening.
If, as it has been reported, the Liberals throw in their lot with the Federated Labor Party, the election of Mr.
Barnard is a certainty, but even if such a course is not followed by the Liberals, Mr. Barnard would be elected by a considerable majority if the workmen support their candidate to the full extent of their power. It will be interesting to watch events in this contest. It will show whether the workman has finally made up his mind to vote the straight Labor ticket, or whether he will put party affiliations before his immediate interests.
The party leaders of all shades of thought will no doubt learn much from this campaign, no matter which candidate is elected, and will govern themselves accordingly. If Labor wins, it will be up to the old political parties to add several new planks to their platforms and pay more attention to the wishes of the workman.
If Labor is defeated it means that the workpeople have not yet come to the conclusion that a labor representative is necessary to their welfare.

We note with pleasure that the campaign is to be conducted by both candidates without the use of personalities, and will be fought out strictly on the merits of the issues involved. When a candidate, representing any political party or other body, commences to hurl personalities at his adversary his name is generally spelled Mud with a capital M.

Editorial Notes

It is reported that clothing prices are going higher.
We absolutely refuse to get excited about it.

The inquiry being held in Winnipeg relative to the high cost of living has brought out the fact that one shoe firm in that city had a stock of ladies boots which were laid down in Winnipeg at $11.74 per pair, and they were sold at $19.00 per pair. Does not seem enough.

The report that President Wilson is improving in health will be received by Canadians generally with deep satisfaction. Very few presidents of the United States have proved so popular on this side of the border as the present incumbent. His good work in support of the League of Nations is appreciated by all who are interested in the welfare of humanity.

Members of the Peace Conference expect that Turkey will give trouble, that massacres are sure to follow the present anarchy, and that even the throne is threatened by the latest development in that country. While we have not been following closely the events in Turkey, we feel inclined to wager about four dollars to a dead dog that the Peace Conference members' expectations will be realized.

The news that the railroad workers in London have returned to work will be greeted with satisfaction on all sides. It shows that a settlement of labor troubles are always possible when both sides are open to conviction and they can see the other fellow's side of the argument.
The trades union conference and Premier Lloyd George were mainly instrumental in bringing about an amicable settlement of the trouble.

"Pebbles found among beans," says a dispatch. Well, there is nothing in that to get excited about. We have found lots of them in our beans during the course of our sixteen summers and several hard winters on this terrestrial sphere. We remember that it was reported that in one of the penitentiaries in the United States some years ago one of the convicts found a pea in his soup, and it took several months for the detective staff to find out how that pea got in the soup.

With the end of the present month the daylight saving scheme will come to an end, and from all indications it will not be again enforced. The United States has repealed the Daylight Saving law, and the chances are that when the clocks are put back this year they will not undergo the same operation again. There has been considerable opposition to this scheme, and it looks as though the ants have won out.

RECIPES

From Bulletin No. 40.

Cookies.

When using most kinds of meal, it will be found necessary or advantageous to add a certain quantity of ordinary flour to the dough for cookies. The following formula gives good results with almost any kind of fine meal:

1½ cups of meal.
½ cup of white flour.

½ cup of butter and lard or other fat.

¾ cup of sugar (brown, white or maple).

1 egg.

Add a little salt unless the butter contains a good deal. Mix the beaten egg with the sugar and fat. Mix the flour and meal. Lastly, mix all ingredients together.

The dough is usually rather difficult to handle but can be rolled out and cut into shapes on a board well covered with fine meal or flour. Bake from 10 to 30 minutes, according to the heat of the oven.

Whole wheat cookies of good quality can be made from the following recipe, without the use of any flour at all:

2 cups of fine white meal.
¼ cup butter and lard mixed.
¾ cup of sugar.

1 egg.

The dough should be stiff but it may perhaps require the addition of a very small amount of water in some cases.

Tea Biscuits.

Good tea biscuits can be made from finely ground wheat, without the addition of any flour but when fine meal made from other grains is used it is desirable to employ about equal parts of this meal and of wheat flour. The following biscuit formula is very satisfactory:

1 cup of fine meal.
1 cup of flour.
2 teaspoonsful of baking powder.

1-3 cup of butter and lard mixed.

Mix together the meal, flour and baking powder and add a very little salt unless decidedly salty butter is being used. Then add the fat and mix thoroughly. Lastly, add enough water to make a rather slack dough. Roll and cut on a floured board. Bake about 10 minutes in a very hot oven.

If pure wheat tea biscuits are desired, two cups of fine wheat meal can be used, without any flour. The resulting biscuits are somewhat coarse and not very light, but of good flavor and quite palatable.

THE EUROPEAN MARKET.

H. S. Arkell, Live Stock Commissioner, who has recently returned from a trip to Europe where he had reviewed the live stock market situation, has expressed his views, regarding Canada's position, in the October number of the Agricultural Gazette. He states that the London agents of our Canadian packers reviewed in disappointment the orders for Canadian goods—bacon, eggs, etc.—for which they could obtain but a tenth of the product they required. The unwarranted high price of hogs in Canada during the past month is but a reflection on the reputation of Canadian bacon, as compared with American, and demonstrates the effort of our packers to maintain their old established clients in the face of short supplies. Since Denmark, within a year, will again be a factor on the bacon market our only security for the future is full production and such a substantial export supply as must command recognition by its volume and quality. Short hog production is unquestionably the most dangerous policy Canada can adopt. This is true of eggs as well as bacon.

BEFORE buying Victory Bonds again you may want to know how Canada used the money you loaned her last year.

Canada borrowed the money to carry on the war and to provide credits for Great Britain and our Allies.

CONSIDERABLY more than one-half of the Victory Loan 1918 was spent on our soldiers. This included $312,900,000, for paying them, feeding them, bringing them home, separation allowances to their dependents, maintenance of medical services and vocational training schools.

$59,000,000 of the Victory Loan 1918 was paid on account of authorized Soldiers' gratuities.

$9,000,000 was spent at Halifax for relief and reconstruction after the disaster.

Other disbursements were not, strictly speaking, expenditures, but National Re-investments.

To Great Britain for example:

$173,500,000 was loaned for the purchase of our wheat and cereals.

$9,000,000 for our fish.

$30,000,000 for other Foodstuffs.

$2,900,000 for Canadian built ships.

$5,500,000 to pay other British obligations in Canada.

Making in all $220,900,000 advanced to Great Britain.

To our Allies, we loaned $8,200,000 for the purchase of Canadian foodstuffs, raw material and manufactured products.

The Re-investments will be paid back to Canada in due time, with interest.

These credits were absolutely necessary to secure the orders for Canada because cash purchases were impossible.

They have had the effect of tremendously helping agricultural and industrial workers to tide over the depression that would have followed the Armistice, had we not made these credit loans.

As far as money is concerned, 1919 has been, and is still—just as much a war year as 1918. Our main expenditures for war cannot be completed until well on into 1920. Thus another Victory Loan is necessary—Get ready to buy.

COMEDY REHEARSALS START

Dramatic Club Holds First Rehearsal of Playlet for Coming Entertainment

At a meeting of the Sidney Dramatic Club at Berquist Small Hall on Monday evening final arrangements were made for the commencement of rehearsals for the two comedies which will be staged in the near future by the Club. There is still some doubt as to the ultimate choice of the second playlet "Mr. Sitwell's Quiet Night at Home," and the matter of decision has been placed in the hands of Miss Bella Eilers, of Victoria, who will direct the production of the other comedy, "The Good Luck Lamp." Miss Eilers' recommendation will be made to the executive committee of the Club, and according to motion passed at the Monday evening meeting her decision will be accepted as final. If the comedy is found suitable for production rehearsals of the cast to whom parts have already been assigned will commence in the near future.
